

Have a
Learning and Earning Experience
this summer.

The Royal Alberta Museum is offering hands-on placements to two summer interns to work in Archaeology, Botany, western Canadian History, Communications and Marketing, Conservation, Entomology, Ethnology, Geology, Mammalogy, Ornithology, Paleontology and many other sections of the Museum.

It's a summer learning experience that you help design. It happens in Edmonton at the Royal Alberta Museum and lasts 15 weeks, beginning May 10th. It's a learning and earning experience that puts $8,500 in your pocket for full time participation (given in four equal amounts of $2,125).

If you are an Aboriginal student enrolled in college or university, with academic interests related to museum studies, this could be for you. The application form is available on the NAAF Website www.naaf.ca under Scholarships and Bursaries. Include a letter of outlining your field of study and why you would like a museum learning experience two references, your most recent grade transcript and a resume and send it to:

National Aboriginal Achievement Foundation
P.O. Box 759
2160 Fourth Line
Ohswéken, ON, N0A 1H0

If you have any questions, please call 1-800-329-9780 or 519-445-3020
and ask for Rachel Hill

The deadline for applying is April 6, 2010

This rewarding opportunity for Aboriginal students is jointly sponsored by

